Miley pokes fun at LiLo and Bieber!

Teen singer Miley Cyrus poked fun at her peers on U.S. comedy show Saturday Night Live at the weekend, appearing in skits as Lindsay Lohan, Vanessa Hudgens, Fergie — and even pal Justin Bieber.

She kicked off her hosting stint on the show as Lohan in a mock Charlie Sheen chat show, which also featured series regulars Taran Killam and Fred Armisen portraying disgraced fashion designer John Galliano and Libya leader Muammar Gaddafi, respectively.

As troubled Lohan, who is facing jail time for allegedly stealing a necklace from a California jewellery store, Cyrus joked, "Things are great... the Los Angeles courthouse just gave me my own parking spot".

When Sheen, portrayed by comedian Bill Hader, advertised a new product called Baby Urine, stating, "Got a drug test coming up? Reach for some nice, clean Baby Urine," Cyrus, as Lohan, said, "Can I get some of that?" But the singer actress got the biggest laughs when she portrayed Bieber on another chat show skit, which was fronted by comedienne Vanessa Bayer, who regularly portrays the former Hannah Montana star on Snl.

Cyrus used her opening monologue on the show to address the controversies she has been linked to in a comedy song.

Introducing the ditty, she said, "I'm mostly a white swan kinda girl but I've had a few black swan moments. You know I've never been arrested or anything. My scandals are more like, 'Miley and some girl were chewing on the same Twizzler; someone took a photo and now it's all over the Internet.' That may upset some people and for that I'm truly sorry".

She then sang, "There's a photo of me being kissed by a dude And (photographer) Annie Leibovitz tried to get me nude. For those of you who think that's very crude. I'm sorry that I'm not perfect".

She added, "I never stole a necklace or got a Dui...So what you can see a little b from the side. I'm sorry that I'm not perfect."

Beyonce Knowles hates strong aftershave

The singer reveals that men who apply tons of aftershave are turn offs

Singer Beyonce Knowles — who is married to Jay-Z — says men shouldn't wear too much aftershave because a strong scent is a turn-off.

Beyonce gets turned off by men who wear too much aftershave. The singer-and-actor—who is married to hip-hop superstar Jay-Z — says it's much sexier if a man has a subtle scent rather than something that is overbearing.

She said, "A man should never be too overbearing with his scent. I've been in too many elevators next to too many men with strong aftershave and it's a total turn-off. With men, a scent should be subtle, clean and fresh, and just make you want to lean in to smell more. That's sexy."

Beyonce has just launched her second fragrance, Heat Rush, and says Jay-Z was involved in the creative process because she will only wear perfumes he approves of.

She told Britain's Cosmopolitan magazine, "One of the most important aspects of my perfume is that they get his seal of approval. When you wear a perfume, you want your man to love it. He loves my scents because he was part of the decision-making process. I wouldn't wear a scent if he didn't like it."
